GUILTY.

So Says the Ecclesiastical Court That Tried Rev. MacQueary.

The Reverend Gentleman Has Received no Official Notice--- He Will Make a Statement to the Public.

The heresy trial of Rev. Howard Mac Queary has finally reached a conclusion, and the verdict of guilty is not unexpected. Rev. MacQueary had hopes for a short time that the verdict would be different, but they were meagre and he is not at all surprised, and it may be said not in the least disconcerted at the turn affairs have taken. A NEWS-DEMOCRAT reporter called upon the reverend gentleman this afternoon, but not yet having received official notification of the verdiet from the Bishop, he declined to talk concerning the points at issue until the document arrives. "In the controversy concerning trial," he said, as he tilted back in his chair and assumed an easy position, "the main points at issue are few and very simple. No, I do not care to discuss them at present, but will have something to say when the verdict reaches me officially. My mail is increasing rapidly and my letters for the most part are congratulatory. Of course there are some cranks, and I receive letters from many persons of whom I have never heard before, but if some of the letters I have received from clergymen were to be published they would raise more of a disturbance in the Church than my book did. I did not conduct services last evening in the church because, though I had not received the verdict officially, I was apprised of the opinion of a majority of the Court. Of ourse I shall not make any retraction, but will at once tender my resignation. I have preached my last sermon as pastor of an Episcopal church, I cannot see how a man who is an honest man can afford to suppress his honest opinion. I know that my opinion concerning the birth of our Savior is concurred in by many Episcopal clergymen. When I was in the East some time since, a number of different clergymen said to me, "I agree with you, but I think you have spoken too plainly." Now, I cannot see how the truth can be stated too clearly or concisely. I expect to receive the verdict this evening, and as it is optional with me whether or not it is published, I will say that it will be published.

Rev. MacQueary declined to state what his plans are for the future, but will make them known in due time. One thing is certain, he will not retract, and will immediately tender his resignation to the Bishop.

A CLEVELAND ACCOUNT.

The Cleveland Plain Dealer says: Rev. Howard MacQueary's fate is not only sealed but it is signed and delivered as well. Rev. A. B. Putnam, president of the ecclesiastical court left the verdict at Bishop Leonard's residence in person at about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The verdict is guilty and the punish mentrecommended by the court is that the Rev. Howard MacQueary be suspended for a period of six months, during which time he is to have the privilege of retracting his views regarding the virgin | few days. birth and the bodily resurrection if he so desires. If at the end of six months he has failed to retract those views he is to be degraded from the ministry.

ract quite early, long before he was pre-ented for trial, and he did not do so. He an article in Jackson township news, on the Carrollton division. was tried on the presentment against him on the full understanding that his ground was that he could hold those views and stay in the church. The church, by the court, says that he cannot. It is not likely now that he will take a step back or make a single concession for the sake of remaining in the church. Indeed it is generally supposed that on having official knowledge of the verdict he will at once resign from the Episcopalian ministry and accept an offer which he has had from a church of another denomination. It is also safe to say that Bishop Leonard will not exercise his prerogative of imposing a lighter penalty than that recommended by the court. The verdict s weak enough already by the refusal of Rev. Messrs. Smythe and Gallagher to join in it and the bishop will no doubt go to the entire limit allowed him by the court, beyond which he cannot go. A Plain Dealer reporter called twice on Bishop Leonard last night. The first call was made at about 8 o'clock and the domestic who opened the door replied that Bishop Leonard was out and that he was not expected home that evening. The second call was made at about 10 o'clock and although a bright light was burning in the parior nobody came to the door. No member of the court would tell the verdict. Each one said that he had promsed the others that he would not say a word, now that the matter was out of their hands and in the hands of the bishop.

The Plain Dealer will not say where its information was derived. It did not come from the bishop. It did not come from the court. But it is . nevertheles authen-

The court went to dinner at about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the Hollenden. Afterdinner it did not go back to Trinity house, but finished its work in the Hollenden, had a typewritten copy of its verdict made in the office there and adjourned from there. Meanwhile its actions were observed. The minority faction had deserted the scene. Mr. Putnam devoted himself to the task of seeing that the verdict was properly transcribed and that none of it got away, while Messrs. Aves and Morgan waited in the reading room, pens in hand, to sign and get away. The front room down stairs in Trinity house was deserted. This is the room which serves as Dean Morgan's office and in which most of the deliberations of the court were held. On Dean Morgan's desk are two copies of the canons of the general convention. One is a big volume which seems to be the journal of the doings of the general convention. The other, which lies on top of a row of books on top of the desk, is a little volume of the canon laws with Bishop Leonard's name on the fly leaf. The bigger book makes interesting reading. A leaf was turned down at the following interesting paragraph:

"Whenever the penalty of suspension shall be inflicted upon a bishop, priest or deacon in the church, the sentence shall specify on what terms or at what time raid penalty shall cease."

A little ahead of this in the book was found the paragraph:

"And on height found guilty he shall be the verdict was properly transcribed and found the paragraph:

"And on being found guilty he shall be admonished, suspended or degraded according to the canons of the diocese in which the trial takes place until otherwise the convention." which the trial takes place until otherwise provided for by the general convention."

Another paragraph provides that "if any presbyter " " " shall abandon the communion of the church by an open remunication of the doctrine, discipline or worship of this church or by a formal admission into any religious body not in communion with the same or in any other way" it shall become the duty of this way" it shall become the duly of this standing committee to so notify the bishop, who shall thereupon suspend the clergyman for six months, at the same time notifying him that if at the end of that time he shall not declare the accusation to be false he shall be deposed. If before the six months expires he shall renounce and repent the bishop may use his discre-tion about taking him back.

A RESIDENCE BURNED. The House Of T. W. Lerch Destroyed By Fire Yesterday.

Fire was discovered yesterday about noon in the roof of the residence of T. W. Lerch, keeper of a stall in the Canton Market house, four miles west of Canton on the Richville road. The alarm was at once given and friends and neighbors hastened to the rescue. The fire was spreading with great rapidity through the upper story, the whole garret seeming to be in a blaze. No engine or extinguisher of any kind could be brought and great difficulty was experienced in fighting the flames. The majority of the furniture was removed before any damage had been done to it and a bucket brigade formed. Water was passed from person to person. the volunteers doing gallant service. The means, however, were too limited to fight the fire and the house was almost entirely consumed, entailing a loss of $1,300, partially covered by insurance. The flames were discovered by Mr. Lerch's sister who gave the alarm. It was started probably from a defective flue in the chimney. The insurance is $1,200.

FELL INTO A HOLE.

John Allen Seriously Injured Last Monday Night. John Allen, a well known citizen living at No. 37 East Tenth street, met with an accident Monday evening which will confine him to his home for some days. In company with Lee Myers, Mr. Allen was walking on East Eighth street and when opposite the Grand opera house he walked into an excavation which has been made on the property of M. C. Barber. The excavation extends to the sidewalk and there was no guard rail or warning light placed at that point. Mr. Allen fell to the bottom of the excavation, a distance of perhaps eight feet. In falling be attempted to save himself by seizing hold of Mr. Myers, and the result was that both fell to the bottom. Myers was unburt, but Mr. Allen struck upon a box and was severely injured. He lay at the bottom of the excavation until Myers brought two police officers to his assistance, and the injured man was taken home. Dr. Raedel was summoned, and it was found that he had sustained a severe scalp wound on the right side of the head and that three ribe were broken. The physician attended to the injuries and the victim of the accident is resting as easily as possible under the circumstances.

A SERIOUS ACCIDENT.

A Carrollton Man Sustains Injuries Which May Result Fatally,

While Attempting to Board a Moving Train on the Oleveland and Canton Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Hal Steen, of Carrollton, was probably fatally injured at the C. & C. R.R. crossing on East Tuscarawas street, Yesterday morning Steen and his brother-in-law, James Simonds, came to Canton from Carrollton, to spend St. Patrick's Day here with friends, intending to take the evening train home. Steen has only been in Carrollton about six weeks, having come there from the South, being formerly a brakeman on the Georgia Central R. R., and while here intended to make application for work on one of the Canton roads.

As train No. 3, the south bound passenger on the main line, due here at 5:12 p. m., started south, a man was seen to run down Tuscarawas street towards the depot, but instead of attempting to board the moving train from the platform, he placed his hand on the top of the guard gates, which were lowered while the train was passing, and leaped over them. As the last platform of the smoking car passed him he attempted to board the day coach, catching the rail and getting his left foot on the first step. As he did so, he was swayed quickly to one side, his hip striking the corner of the coach and loosening his hold on the handle. Before he could again get another hold he fell face downwards between the two coaches with his right arm on the track, the first pair of trucks of the passenger coach passing over the member, the boxes of the frame work striking his head, pushing him to one side of the track.

The passengers at the depot were horrified to see the poor fellow laying in the dirt in the middle of the road, his clothing being torn and his arm crushed in a most frightful manner.

The train was at once stopped and the man placed on a stretcher and carried into the gent's waiting room at the C. & C. depot. The doors were locked and no one allowed in the room but those who were needed. The man was bleeding in a horrible manner and there seemed to be danger of death being caused that way. Dr. Brant the company's surgeon was on the scene and stopped the flow of blood. Papers were placed at all the windows, with the intention of keeping away the crowd of people who were pushing and elbowing their way towards the windows, all attempting to get a glimpse of the injured man. Steen was placed on two tables, in the middle of the room, with his coat under his head as a pillow, and a couple of coats under his body. When a NEWS-DEMOCRAT reporter reached the depot, the sight was a most sickening one, the mans arm having been removed and placed on the floor under the table, the ables and floor being covered with the fellow's life blood, and the instruments and sponges being smeared with blood. Dr. Brant, assisted by Dr's. Biechele and Evans, performed the operation, the arm' being removed at the shoulder. The man was very weak from the loss of blood, and small hopes are entertained for his recovery. He was fixed up in the best manner possible in the depot last night, it being mpossible to remove him to other quarters Volunteers remained with him during the folunteers remained what been drink-light. The man had been drink-ng before the accident, a bottle of liquor ray before the accident, a bottle of liquor found in his pocket. Mr.

Steen is 35 years of age and single, his only relatives near here being Mr. and Mrs. James Simonds and two prothers at Carrollton. He remained unconscious until about 12:30 this morning when he seemed to revive and asked for a drink of water, and also asked about his arm, wish ng to know whether it had been removed. He went to sleep shortly. At three o'clock this morning, he awoke and from that time until five he seemed to suffer intense pain, it being all John Logan, the watchman, could do to control him, the man-rolling and groaning terribly. He was re moved at six this morning to the boarding house across the street from the depot where he now is. His sister Mrs. Simonds, arrived this morning from Carrollion and his two brothers are expected this after neon. He is very weak this morning and but small hopes are entertained for his recovery. He is a well built and muscular man and his vitality may pull him through. Nal. Steen, the man so dangerously injured at the East Tuscarawas street crossing of the C. & C. R. R., is resting as easily as could be expected this afternoon at the C. C. &. S. boarding house. He will be taken to Carrollton as soon as it can be safely done. He is perfectly conscious this afternoon and talks freely with friends. He is very weak this morning and friends. St. Patrick's Day in Massillon.

MASSILLON, March 18. St. Patrick's day was fittingly celebrated in Music Hall, Massillon, on Tuesday evening. Rev. Dr. Stafford presided and opened the literary exercises with a powerful and eloquent address on the Irish race. It was one of his best efforts which is saying a good deal. A large audience was present. Previous to the literary feast a bounteous supper was served by the ladies of Dr. Stafford's church, which ended at 8:30 p. m. Joe Ess followed Dr. Stafford with a cornet solo which was rapturously applauded, and Mr. Ess was induced to respond with a favorite Irish air which made all Irish hearts rejoice. Gust Paul accompan'ed on the piano.

An address followed of thirty minutes on the Irish Soldiers in the War of the Rebellion, by Gen. I. R. Sherwood of Canton. He opened with a dissertation on the characteristics of the Irish race. He claimed that more Irishmen distinguised themselves in the War of the Rebellion in proselves in the War of the Rebellion in proportion to population than any other Nationality, and that the Irish lost more men killed in battle, in proportion to strength than even the citizens of the United States who became soldiers. He instanced Generals Sheridan, Kearney, Kilpatrick, Gilmour, McDowell, Shields, Colonels Halpine, Keegan, Birney, Gen. Corcoran, Cochrane, and many others. Master Emmett Leahy recited Erin's Flag in a very touching manner, and was rein a very touching manner, and was rein a very touching manner, and was received with much enthusiasm. Then followed the Mandolin Club, which was one of the taking numbers of the evening. Editor L. C. Macpherson, of the Massilonian then gave an address on the Irish poets, that was worth hearing in any hearing, being bright, sparkling, humorous and just. It was a splendid effort. This was followed by Fantasia for Piccolo, Turtle Dove, E. DeMar, by John Vogt. Then followed a very rare literary treat by Joseph Dannemiller, of Canton, in a character Irish sketch. This set the audience wild with enthusiasm. The entertainment closed with Moonlight on Killarney by the quartette, a splendid organarney by the quartette, a splendid organ zation in point of accurate music.

Manner.

NEW YORK, March 18. - Brilliant weather favored the Irishmen of New York in their celebration of St. Patrick's day. The most important parade of the day was formed at 1 o'clock at Washington Square. The procession after marching through several streets was reviewed at Seventeenth street and Broadway by the mayor and other civic authorities. At the conclusion of the parade through the city a successful demonstration was held at Jones Wood coliseum. The route of the procession was lined with spectators, most of whom wore green emblems. The sec-ond parade, consisting of Thirty-eight divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians of this county and three visiting divisions, started from Fifty-ninth street and Fifth avenue at 1:30 o'clock.

THE FEELING IN NEW ORLEANS OVER INTERNATIONAL COMPLICATIONS.

Property Holders Liable to Pay a Large Sum for Damages to the Families of Any of the Eleven Men Eilled-Some of the Victims Said to be American Citizens.

New ORLEANS, March 18 .- The interional character that the mob of Saturday has taken was a surprise to all, and has caused some anxiety here. New Orleans has had several big damage bills to pay on account of similar mob outreaks. In 1853, after the shooting of Crittenden and other American filibusters who went with Lopez to Cuba, the populace rose, attacked the Spanish residents of this city, and drove the Spanish consul from his residence. The mob was denounced by President Fillmore and heavy damages paid. Again, in 1878. New Orleans had to pay a large sum for the damages to property inflicted by a mob. Attention of y-holders is called to the fact that the families of any of the eleven men killed have a good suit for damages against the city for its failure to protect them

Said to be American Citizens.

Relative to the international f. ature of the affair, an attempt will be made to show that all the men lynched by the mob had repudiated their allegiance to the king of Italy and were American citizens. During December complaint vas made by the Italian consul that the Italian prisoners were being badly treated and abused in the Parish prison. He attempted to interfere and Baron Fava, the Italian minister at Washington, saw Mr. Elsine about the matter. The answer was then made to Mr Blaine's message on the subject that all the prisoners were American citizens. There seems to be some difference of opinion on this subject. It is claimed by Signer Corte that three of the dead nen were still Italian subjects-Monasterio, Trabena and Marchesi. It should be noted, by the way, that the sedies of these men were the only ones not claimed by some friend or relative, and that they were buried by the city n the potter's field without an artend nt or ceremonies of may kind. other hand, it is asserted by the regis-erar of voters that all these men were gistered and had voted at the last lection.

Louistann's Constitution. The constitution of Louisiana allows foreign-born citizen to register and yote as soon as he gives notice of his in fore his final naturalization papers are sued to him. As the Italian vote has ately become an important element po-itically, being the controlling element a two words, the leaders here saw to it that the moment a vessel arrived from fully steps were tuken to propert the new comers for citizenship. The chances, therefore, are in favor of the men being Monography The arrived hory Jan. 7, 1890. Although a common show-naker, he was a man of education, and is said had been a professor to Italy. was from his shanty that the imurdera fired on Hennossy, and the police aim that he commanded the squad and irected the shooting. Two of the men till confined in the parish prison, and who escaped the lynching, are acknowledged by all to be Italian subjects. They re Pietro Natoli and Sebastian Incarone and the boy, Aspie Marchesi, is also claimed by the Italian consul.

Signor Corte's Letter. Signer Corte addressed a letter to the vernor, calling his attention to the ct that the prisoners were Italian subects, and asking that they be assured protection to their lives and a fair trial. gner Certe sent full particulars about a lynching to Baron Fava and the salian government Saturday, and has had no further communications to make on this subject.
